

WEEKLY CRIME REPORT

INTRODUCTION

The re-emergence of criminal gangs in some parts of the country was of key concern in this reporting week.

In Nairobi County, the security agencies cautioned the residents about the resurgence of robbers back in the city centre disguising as matatu touts. Many of the criminals are armed with knives and ready to pounce on pedestrians and shoppers leaving retail outlets.

In Mombasa County, police were able to thwart an attack on pedestrians by the outlawed criminal gang, Wakili Kwanza in Kisauni area. Police also arrested suspected members of Mombasa Republic Council as they assembled at a house in Kibudani area of Kwale County.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK

BM NOTABLE NEWS HIGHLIGHT

BM Security was privileged to host a benchmarking exercise of the dog section at the Headquarters on 2nd April 2019 for Dog handlers from various units within the Security Force. Some of the units represented in the tour under the command of the Kenya Defense Forces included the Kenya Army, Kenya Navy, Military Police, and Kenya Airways.

A total of 30 officers who were in attendance were taken through the curriculum which included theory training that focused on kennel management, dog care, and security practices as well as a practical demonstration.

BM Security dog section came highly recommended by Major Were of the KDF in comparison to other security firms. He was particularly impressed with the high level of competency and professionalism exhibited and pointed out that the entire exercise was well conducted.
