

WEEKLY CRIME REPORT

6th August - 12th August

OVERVIEW

Our security records on the second week of August 2019 indicate that crime-related incidents had slightly reduced as compared to the past two weeks. Whereas we may attribute this noted decline to the continuous fight on crime by police, similar credit needs to be extended to the members of the public for being vigilant. Other than the above, the preparations for the upcoming 2019 National Census are top-notch with the Government set to deploy security personnel alongside officials who will conduct the exercise on the night of 24th and 25th August 2019. Given the timings of this important exercise, the public should be vigilant of criminals who might pose as Census agents.
