

WEEKLY CRIME REPORT

8th October - 14th October '19

OVERVIEW

There was a slight upsurge of criminal activities during the second week of October contrary to a more peaceful similar period witnessed last year. Of particular concern in the week under reference is the rise of burglary and fire cases recorded in Nairobi City and other major towns in the Country. Our security sources indicate that increased house break-ins attributed to the rise in burglaries while electric faults were the main reasons behind the spike of fire outbreaks.

In another notable incident, the continuous unrest witnessed in the public universities saw Pwani University become the fourth institution in the Country to be closed indefinitely following massive property destruction.

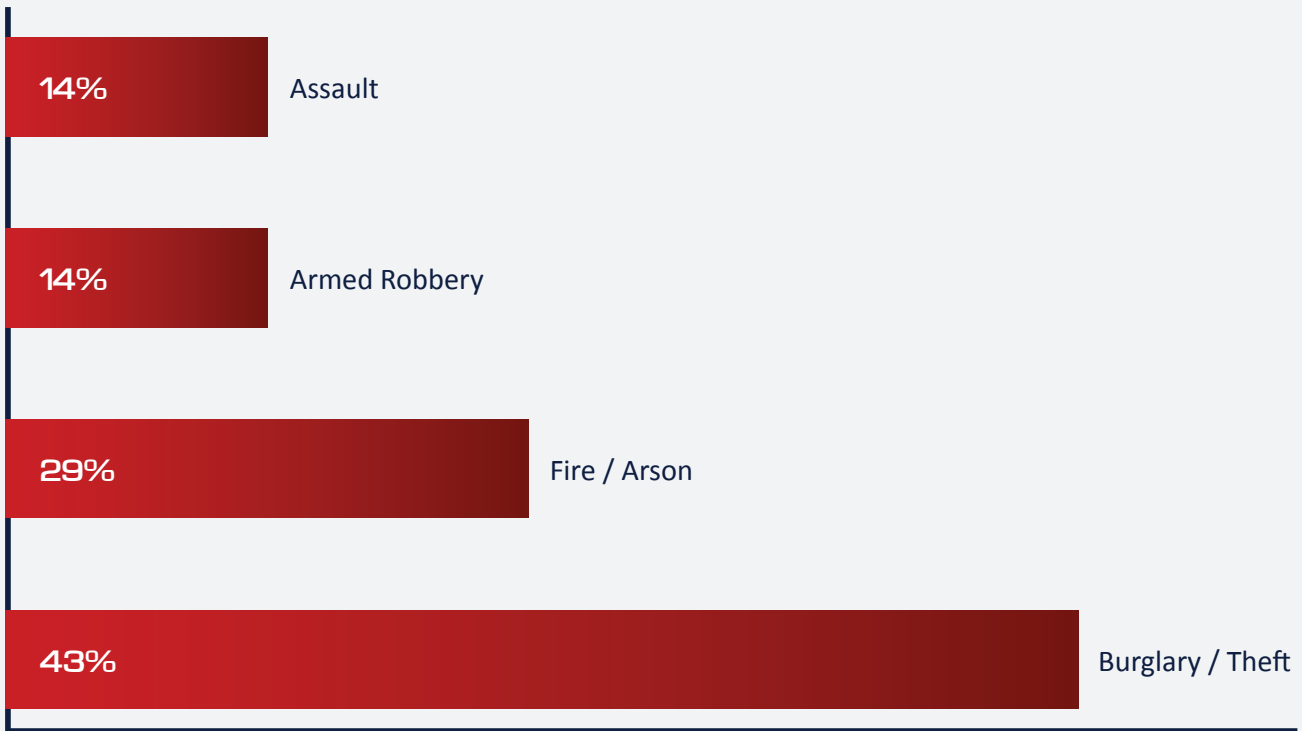

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK NAIROBI

The notable incidents recorded in Nairobi included the following:

- Twenty two families were on Tuesday left homeless after a fire destroyed their 15 houses in Korogocho slums in Nairobi.
- Suspected armed criminals on a boda on Tuesday attacked and injured two young men walking down the Windy Ridge road in Karen, Nairobi.
- A couple is accused to have on Wednesday stolen household items worth Ksh.127,000 and cash worth Ksh.20,000 at an Apartment in Kilimani area, Nairobi.
- A man with other alleged Nairobi County officials on Thursday assaulted a resident of Kibera 42 in Nairobi County.
- Burglars on Sunday night broke into a residential house along Ngao road in Nairobi County and made away with valuables.
- Three people on Monday night died and four others were seriously injured in a fire incident at a residential house in Kariobangi South, Nairobi.
