

WEEKLY SECURITY & SAFETY REPORT

22nd May - 28th May 2020

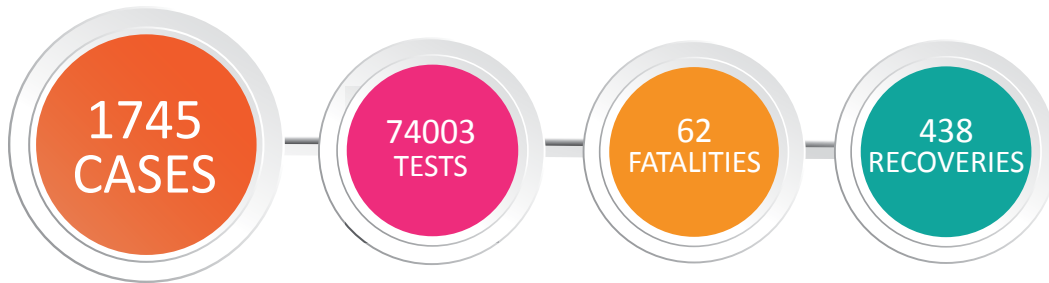

OVERVIEW

The 147 number of new infections reported on Thursday was the highest daily increase recorded since the virus's first case on March 13. The national tally of confirmed Covid-19 positive cases now stands at 1745 against 438 recoveries and 62 deaths.

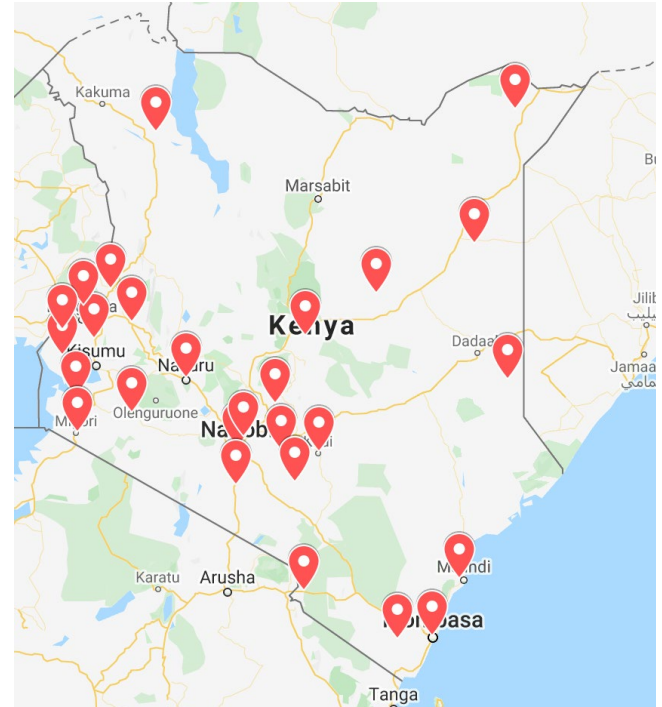

As noted by the Cabinet Secretary of Health, the rate of the Covid-19 infections in the Country may continue to rise as the Government rollout mass testing in targeted areas and the public's noncompliance to the set directives and guidelines.

Other than the above, there has been a growing concern of crime trends and gender-based violence across the Country. For instance, Nairobi has seen a rise of thieves on motorbikes targeting unsuspecting pedestrians while up-country regions continues to record increased cases of family-related violence.

SECURITY THREATS

CRIME

Like the past two months, the final week of May has seen a rise in crime trends across the Country. In Nairobi, there have been reports of thieves operating on motorbikes with Westlands Sub-County been the worst hit region. In other parts of the Country, thieves continue to take advantage of the dusk-to-dawn curfew order to break into shops and go-downs.

CIVIL UNREST

The Country continues to remain calm amidst the cessation of movement and adherence to the dusk-to-dawn curfew order. However, there exists uncertainty should the Government decides to extend the two orders come 6th June 2020.
