

WEEKLY SECURITY & SAFETY REPORT

22nd July - 28th July 2020

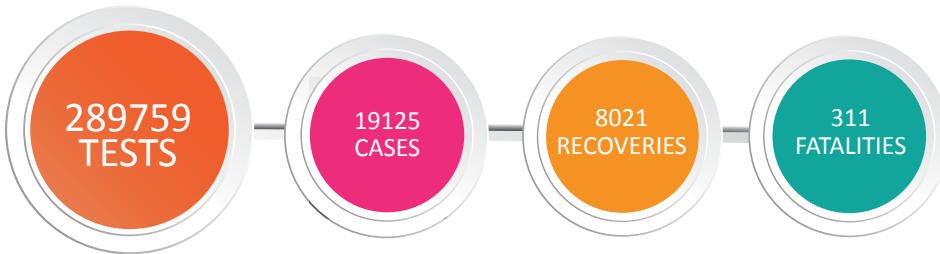

OVERVIEW

The total number of COVID-19 infections has been on a steady rise since the President relaxed some of the containment measures early in the month. During that period, the infection rate seems to have generally doubled as compared to the past four months. Health officials have also warned that the trend might overrun the available health infrastructure should the number keep rising.

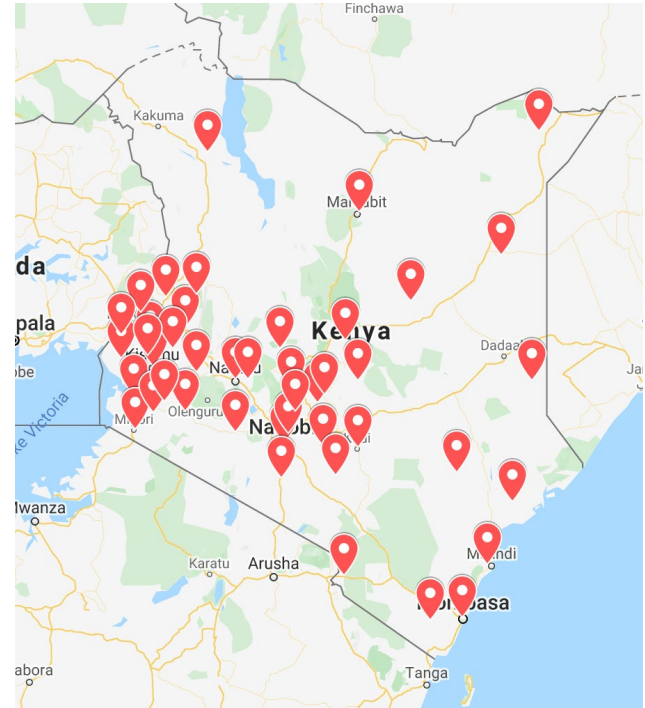

In his 10th address on the COVID-19 pandemic, the President announced new measures that could help curb the spread of coronavirus in the Country. Key takes on during the address included the extension of the nationwide curfew for 30 days, ban on the sale of alcoholic drinks and beverages in eateries and restaurants, closure of bars until further notice, revised closing time for restaurants and eateries from 8 pm to 7 pm for the next 30 days.

Other than the above, there continued to be a decline in the general crime trends with notable reductions in robbery related cases and domestic violence cases across the Country. However, attention has been drawn to increased cases of house break-ins facilitated by criminals renting furnished apartments for short terms basis.

SECURITY THREATS

HOUSE BREAK-INS

There have been increased cases of house break-ins reported in key estates within Nairobi. The majority of these cases occurred during the weekends and public holidays when house owners are away.

Police also noted that perpetrators of these crimes usually use fake identification documents to rent out furnished apartments and use cabs as their mode of movement in and out of the rental facilities. House owners and facility managers are here advised to conduct vigorous vetting of all their short-term residents on furnished apartments to help deter occurrences of crime within their facilities.
